Local Euro MP meets with Coventry City Councillors

Local Conservative MEP for Coventry, Philip Bradbourn, today met with Councillors from Coventry City Council to discuss European Funding, the future of regional government, and the influence of European transport legislation on constituents in Coventry.

Speaking from Coventry today, Mr Bradbourn said:

“My meeting with Councillors Foster, Ridley, and Noonan, today was a productive and interesting one and we discussed ways in which Coventry City Council can gain access to European Union funding for skills development. We also discussed the NUCKLE (Nuneaton, Coventry, Kenilworth and Leamington) Rail scheme which is underway and I will be in regular contact with my Coventry colleagues to keep up to date with this. I am very keen to continue supporting the businesses and development of my constituents in Coventry.”
