Euro MP for Shropshire in high-profile talks with leading Telford Councillors

Local MEP Philip Bradbourn met with senior members of Telford Unitary Council today to discuss the ways in which Councillors can utilise European Union funding for programs of development in Telford, particularly in areas such as regeneration, and the development of skills and learning.

Speaking from Telford today, Mr Bradbourn said:

“My meeting with Councillor Andrew Eade, leader of Telford Council, and his colleagues today was a productive and interesting one and we discussed ways in which Telford Council can gain access to European Union funding in order to aid their efforts for regeneration and development projects in Telford. I am very keen to continue supporting the business and skills development of my constituents in Telford, and will be working closely with Councillor Eade and his colleagues over the coming months, to aid them in securing funding for such endeavours.”
